The South Wants Best Instead of Bourne.

Are not Senator Bourne, Senator Moore, and that class of republicans generally making a blunder in so persistently and conspicuously calling public attention to the lamentable condition of society in some of the Southern States? These gentlemen have been allowed to fix the policy on which reconstruction has been carried out in those States. Whatever has been done down there by republicans has been done not only with their consent but by their initiative. The policy is theirs; the men who carried it into effect were and are their political allies and friends, whom they have supported; at their instance the President has used the federal forces to countenance and maintain both the policy and the men. And now, after they have had their way entirely for nearly eight years, they burst out into complaints that matters are worse than ever down there. Is not this a blunder of the first class?

I have used the Regulator in my family for the past seventeen years. I can safely recommend it to the world as the best medicine I have ever used for that class of diseases it purports to cure"—[H. F. Thigpen].

Baltimore Episcopcal Methodist.
This medicine is acknowledged to have no equal as a Liver Medicine, containing these Southern Roots and Herbs which an almighty Providence has placed in countries where Liver Diseases most prevail.

Lind's Endorsement.
"I have given your medicine a thorough trial, and in no case did it fail to give full satisfaction."—[Ellis Moseley, Chattanooga, Fla.]

Professional.
"From actual experience in the use of this medicine in my practice I have been, and am, satisfied to use and prescribe it as a purgative medicine"—[Dr. J. W. Mason].

Florida M. E. Conference.
"I have used Dr. Simmon's Liver Regulator in my family for Dyspepsia and sick Headache, and regard it an invaluable remedy. It has failed to give relief in any instance"—[Rev. W. F. Easterling].

President Oggethorpe College.
"Simmon's Liver Regulator is certainly a specific for that class of complaints which it claims to cure"—[Rev. David Willis, my H. F. Peake].

But they have not been cured by Dr. Bourne's celebrated pills, and Dr. Morton's far-famed sticking plasters, and Gen. Grant's solution of lead. That is the real cause of all the outcry. These doctors seem to care less about making the man well than they do that shall remain under their treatment. And when the poor fellow persists in getting worse, no matter how much of their medicine they run down his throat, then they get up and sold him. He is a wretch, a scoundrel, because he complains and is unhappy. And as to the foul laws over the way, Dr. Bourne and Dr. Morton hint gloomily that they are only pretending to be well; that it is all a painful fraud; they are not well at all, but sick and will presently die.

The object of a political policy is to make the people who are its subjects prosperous and contented. Such a policy is like the moral law, or the Ten Commandments—unbreakable and to endure whether it makes men happy or not. A political policy is an expedient. It is one way to reach a result, and the condition of adopting and trying it is that it does not succeed.

Franklin Creighton, Governor of Mississippi and his party have ruled Mississippi for seven long years, and the State and both races living in it are less happy and less prosperous today than yesterday. Evidently Aimes and his party are failures, and it would be wise to try some other way. But here comes Mr. Bourne and demands that Aimes is competent to deal with Mississippi; that his policy—only more of the same—adequate remedy. Gov. Chamblain, in like manner, has been trying to set things right in South Carolina. We do not doubt he means well; but what is the result? After long and fair trial, "confound the State," says Senator Morton, "it is no better than before. We must give them another twist of Chamblain's tail." Kollogg and Packard and their noble compatriots have been working at Louisiana since 1868, and because they have not made the people contented and prosperous therefore they insist on being still longer retained by federal intercession as her rulers. Is it not all a great folly and absurdity? In fact, all this outcry would be a laughable farce if it were not a very tragic one.—N. Y. Herald.
